For the Eighth Circuit

No. 13-1484

United States of America,

Plaintiff - Appellee,

v.

Cheryl Y. Anderson,

Defendant - Appellant.

Appeal from United States District Court for the Western District of Missouri - Kansas City

Submitted: September 19, 2013

Filed: September 24, 2013

[Unpublished]

Before LOKEN, COLLOTON, and KELLY, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM.

Cheryl Anderson appeals the sentence the district court¹ imposed upon revoking her probation. She argues only that the district court committed procedural error by selecting a sentence based on “clearly erroneous facts.” After careful review, we conclude that the district court based its sentencing decision on appropriate considerations and that no abuse of discretion occurred. See United States v. Miller, 557 F.3d 919, 922 (8th Cir. 2009) (appellate court reviews probation revocation sentence for abuse of discretion, using same standards as those applied to initial sentencing decisions). Accordingly, we affirm.
